Gmail: Working with Multiple Gmail Accounts

Lehigh users frequently need to manage not only their own email account, but also those of other users or departments ("in-accounts"). Depending on how frequently the user needs to access the other account, increasing levels of consolidation of the additional accounts are possible. Follow the instructions below as needed to make your use of additional Gmail accounts as efficient as needed.

- Delegation: Enable One Lehigh Gmail Account to Access Another
- Gmail: Read Email from Another Account
- Switching Between Accounts in a Browser
